

Guide for Using the Online Application Portal of Goethe University for MSQ/Ph.D. Program Applications

This Version: December 12, 2025

Applications for the GSEFM MSQ and Ph.D. programs must occur via the online application portal of Goethe University that is accessible at

<https://www.goethe-campus.uni-frankfurt.de/qisserver/pages/cs/sys/portal/hisinoneStartPage.faces>

(click on the language flag in the lower right-hand corner of this page to open a menu that allows you to switch to the English language version of this portal.)

Submitting an application involves working through the two parts of the portal. In the first part (subsequently Part 1: Self-Registration) you will be asked to provide general information that Goethe University requires to create an account on the basis of which you can subsequently log into the program application portal. Within the portal for the MSQ and Ph.D. programs you will then be asked questions specific to your MSQ/Ph.D. program application, and will also be asked to upload various documents for your application dossier (subsequently Part 2: Program Application).

Note:

As explained under

<https://gsefm.eu/applicants/faq.html>

in their first year at GSEFM all students enrolled in one of the Ph.D. programs at GSEFM are also automatically enrolled in the MSQ program (beyond ensuring that it is possible to earn a Master's (M.Sc.) degree along the way towards the Ph.D. degree, this is also due to university-level administrative reasons). From the second year onwards, students enrolled in one of the Ph.D. programs may de-register from the MSQ program, though it is not at all recommended to do so (in part as it irrevocably ends the option to earn a Master's degree at GSEFM). For the application portal this implies that when applying for admission to a Ph.D. program at GSEFM, you will have to simultaneously also apply for the respective track of the MSQ program (and there is thus no option in the portal to apply for Ph.D. program admission only).

There is, however, the option to apply for admission to one of the tracks of the MSQ program only. For transition from one of the tracks of the MSQ program to the corresponding Ph.D. program, see again

<https://gsefm.eu/applicants/faq.html>

In particular, MSQ Program students during their first year of studies can qualify to also be enrolled in the Ph.D. program that corresponds to their MSQ program track from the second year of studies onwards.

Implication of the above:

The program application in Part 2 for all applicants, including those who are applicants for the Ph.D. programs, begins with choosing the track of the MSQ program for which an application is made. Those who wish to apply for Ph.D. program studies in addition to MSQ program studies will need to indicate so through an option within Part 2 (the details will be explained below).

Part 1: Self-Registration

If at the time of application you are not already enrolled in a different degree program at Goethe University, you will need to start your application with the self-registration.<sup>1</sup>

Please note that while the self-registration process as documented below is strictly necessary, it is not necessary (and indeed not useful for applications to the GSEFM MSQ and Ph.D. programs) to enter any information through Uni-Assist (even if you obtained your university entrance qualification outside of Germany).

Following the link

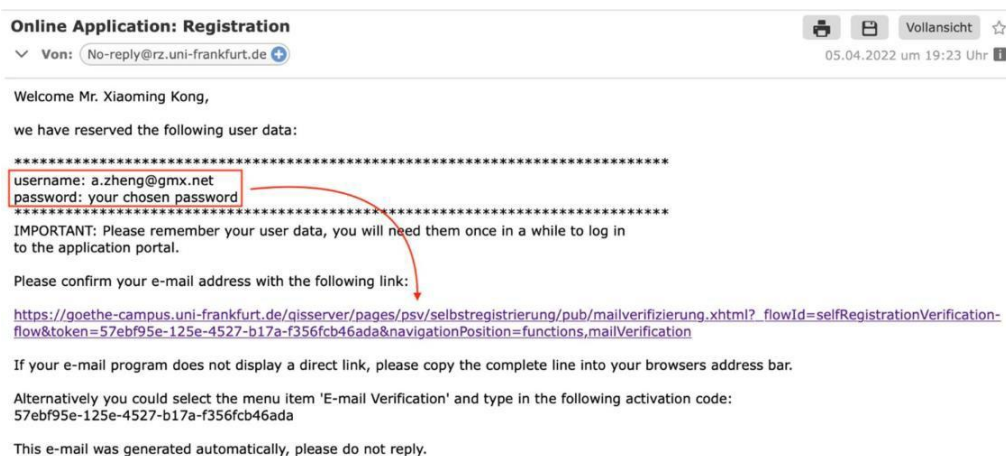

<https://www.goethe-campus.uni-frankfurt.de/qisserver/pages/cs/sys/portal/hisinoneStartPage.faces>

(once more: click on the language flag in the lower right-hand corner of the page to open a menu that allows you to switch to the English language version of the portal) to start the self-registration process as shown in the following screenshot:

<sup>1</sup> Students who at the time of application are already enrolled in another degree program at Goethe University please directly move to Part 2.

- Note that “Data transfer from hochschulstart.de” is not a mandatory field. For those who already have an account on hochschulstart.de this field allows for a convenient way to transfer their data. However, if you do not have such an account already, we recommend to skip this field and instead complete the fields under “Personal details”.
- Please make sure that you enter an address under which you can be permanently reached so as to enable GSEFM to get in touch with you (should your permanent address change during the application process, make sure not to forget informing GSEFM).
- After completing the mandatory fields, you will receive an e-mail (to the address that you provided during the self-registration) with your log-in data for Part 2 of the application system; these log-in data consist of your user name (“Benutzerkennung”) and the password that you chose during the self-registration:

After successful verification, you will see the following screen.

The screenshot displays the 'E-Mail Verification' page of the Goethe University Frankfurt am Main portal. The header includes the university logo and navigation links. The main content area features a success message: 'Your verification has been successful. Please sign in with the username you have received by e-mail and your password.' Below this is a login form with 'User name' and 'Password' input fields and a 'Login' button. To the right, an 'Information' box contains a 'Welcome' message and an 'IMPORTANT' warning: 'Please remember your user data, you will need them once in a while to log in to the application portal.' The footer contains various links like 'SUPPORT', 'PRIVACY', and 'USER MANUAL', along with the 'HISOne' logo and a language selector set to 'English'.

At this point, do not log-in yet, but rather proceed to Part 2 below.

Part 2: Program Application

To start the MSQ/Ph.D. program application, follow the link below to the track for which you are applying (as for Part 1, click on the language flag in the lower right-hand corner of the page that appears to open a menu that allows you to switch to the English language version of this part of the portal):

Master in Quantitative Economics

Master in Quantitative Marketing

Master in Quantitative Accounting

After logging in with your credentials from Part 1, you can now start the program application. Supposing here as an example that you were to apply to the track in Quantitative Marketing, you will see the following screen:

You can now proceed with the program application (for further explanation of the steps involved, see below, “Starting Your Application”).

Notes:

By clicking on “To overview”, you will be shown the application request that you have started. Entries and uploads of documents you have made prior to clicking on “To overview” will be saved. However, when continuing your application you will not be able to jump back to the point at which you stopped working on the application, but must rather click through all sections that you already completed when clicking on “To overview”.

The screenshot displays a web application interface for managing an application. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a 'Browse menu' search field and a user profile icon with a '30' minute timer. Below the navigation, the breadcrumb trail reads 'You are here: Home > Studies offered > Application'. The main section is titled 'Application' and shows the 'Application semester' as 'winter term 2024/25 - 1 Request'. A notification states 'There are no documents in your inbox yet.' The 'Unsubmitted requests' section features 'Request #1' for 'Master GSEFM Graduate School of Economics, Finance and Management Quantitative Marketing (Vers 2021), 1. Subject-related semester'. The request status is 'In preparation'. Action buttons include 'Submit request' and 'Continue to edit request'. A note indicates the application deadline is May 31, 2024. A 'Print data control sheet [PDF]' button is also present. The right sidebar contains 'Personal Information' for 'Charly, Catherine', including her applicant number (383695), contact details (Weg 3, 60320 Frankfurt, Cat@Charly.de), and a note about missing a phone number. A 'Help & Contact' section provides contact information for the Studien-Service-Center.

- You can proceed with your application by clicking “Continue to edit request”. Also, you will see the semester for which you are applying (all applications are for “Wintersemester”/“Winter Term”) and the final application deadline. In the upper right corner of the screen, you can see a number (here: “30”) that indicates how many minutes you have left in the current session. After time runs out you will be logged out automatically but may log in again at any time. The pre-set time limit is a security feature of the portal and will not make you lose entries you have already made, as your work on the application will be saved automatically.
- At any time during your work on the application, you may print a data control sheet that documents the information that you have already entered by clicking on “Print data control sheet [PDF]”.
- You may log out at any time. In that case, too, the information that you have already entered will be saved, and you may complete your application at any time prior to the final application deadline.

As explained under

<https://gsefm.eu/applicants/requirements-and-deadlines.html>

for all applicants it is highly recommended to submit the Quantitative Reasoning Score of the GRE General Test. Applicants to the MSQ program tracks / Ph.D. programs in Accounting, Finance or Marketing may submit the Quantitative Score of the GMAT/GMAT Focus as a substitute for the Quantitative Reasoning Score of the GRE General Test. While both tests also contain verbal and analytical writing (or data insight) sections, the admissions committee does not expect these other sections to be taken. The test scores may be complemented by other forms of documentation of strong quantitative skills, such as through successful completion of courses that are part of the curriculum of an internationally recognized degree program in mathematics or statistics. Such other documentation should also be uploaded here.

9) TOEFL/IELTS (Step 10 of 14): See the explanations under

After completing all steps in Part 2, you will be shown a summary of the entries you made for your application. At this point you may still make changes and submit your application at a later point. Alternatively, you may confirm that the data you have submitted are correct as well as complete, and proceed with submitting your application.

Note:

Once the application is submitted, you may still withdraw it, but in the current version of the portal will not be able to edit it anymore. Thus, if you wanted to revise or add information to an application that was already submitted, you would need to withdraw that application and submit a new one instead, re-entering all other information as well.

Thank you for your interest in the GSEFM degree programs. We look forward to reviewing your application and will inform you about the admissions decision as described under
